

IUC China-EU Vocational Education and Training Cooperation Forum

Brief Introduction

The China-EU regional economic cooperation mechanism, co-guided by the China's National Development & Reform Commission and DG Regio of European Commission, was officially launched in 2006. IUC project of EU supports this mechanism by adopting a triple helix cooperation approach, involving key stakeholders from local government, research institutions and companies in order to achieve concrete cooperation results between European and Chinese pilot cities. Among the 6 clusters specified as main guideline for city-to-city cooperation, vocational training has been identified as a main focal point for many Chinese pilot cities.

Given this background, IUC project will organize a parallel event 'China-EU Vocational Education and Training Cooperation Forum' within the 2019 International Summit & Exhibition for Vocational Education and Training on 7-9 November 2019 in Xi'an. This forum has invited representatives of vocational education colleges and institutions from both sides to share the best practices and experiences and discuss fields for cooperation. At the same time, the flagship project Sino-German Smart Production Lab from Mannheim will be introduced to the Chinese counterparts for joint training, internship and serve as Sino-German vocational training base in Chinese colleagues.

With around 80 participants from different key stakeholders, discussions will revolve around further reform of China's vocational education system, the integration of industry and education and reference to the German best practice, as well as how to promote the Sino-German vocational education project with the support of IUC. This forum will lay a solid foundation for promoting practical cooperation in the field of vocational education and training between China and EU.
