

Smart China Expo 2020
WEBINAIRE
EURO-CHINA
Smart Cities, Facing Covid-19
SEPTEMBER, 14/ 2020
8:00 am - 10:10 am (Central European time)

Background

This event will be the 5th edition of the Euro-China Smart Cities forum, last one was held in Nanning on September 2019.

The forum this year will be held online and will take place on September 14th, 2020 from 8h30 to 10h30 Central European Time. Also, On the opening day of the forum the City of Chongqing will announce its intention to set up a Euro-China Center for Smart Cities.

To cope with the impact of coronavirus is primarily a question of lessening the effects of a disaster and to draw lessons for a better preparedness at local and national levels. It is also to assess, the lasting consequences and lessons of the virus on the urban life in many aspects:

- population density and city planning
- mobility, work and leisure
- lifestyle and pollution
- technology and innovation
- smart housing and schooling
- health and social eco-system

The objective of this forum will be the occasion for European & Chinese cities and companies to exchange on their different innovations, as well as reinforcing a closer collaboration in terms of sustainable development.

The post-pandemic world will turn around the importance of a strong ecological transition and this webinar around European and Chinese cities will be the occasion to discuss different approach towards it.
